Projects

Xaus

XAUS is a full stack project that provides an intuitive admin panel to manage all crucial aspects of a business, from order creation to user and permission management. It is built with a focus on security, scalability, and maintainability.

E-commerce

An e-commerce platform built with Java Spring Boot microservices uses an event-driven architecture for smooth synchronization. Apache Kafka manages messages, with Confluent Schema Registry ensuring data consistency. Microservices follow the CQRS pattern, using Axon Server to handle commands and queries separately, making the system highly scalable.

Experience

Full stack developer - Sentry
I am currently working with Java (Spring Boot), RabbitMQ, and other technologies such as PHP and JavaScript. My focus is on continuously improving my technical skills to enhance the quality and efficiency of deliveries.
